DESCRIPTION OF "READINGS IN LITERATURE" BY GEORGE EARL

"READINGS IN LITERATURE" is a group of 27 famous prose, poems, songs, etc. that allows you to gain an intense familiarity with each selection. By playing 'hangman' with missing words, it makes the process of familiarization into a fun game.

These selections were the ones that I enjoyed memorizing in my youth, and I hope you did too. They are part of our common American heritage.

- CASEY AT THE BAT is an immortal description of the great Casey on the blackest day of his career.
- THE ONE-HOSS SHAY is such a logical description of the 'perfect' machine that it sets the standard for all future 'perfect' machines.
- GIVE ME LIBERTY OR GIVE ME DEATH; THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE; THE BILL OF RIGHTS; and THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS are parts of American history that we all are familiar with.
- It is amazing that everybody sings THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER and nobody knows the words. You also may be as surprized as I was to learn about its conception of pollution.
- Marching songs have always made the drudgery of infantry training more tolerable and YANKEE DOODLE and DIXIE gained their fame here.
- Shakespeare selections include: TO BE OR NOT TO BE; FRIENDS ROMANS, AND COUNTRYMEN; and THE SEVEN AGES OF MAN. I have not updated the Old English because I think it is part of their charm.

This describes 12 of the 27 selections. I like each one of the other 15. If you have selections that you feel should be included in a Volume Two, please write me to nominate your favorites.
